

MASTERING THE ART OF EFFECTIVE REMOTE WORKING (VIRTUAL INSTRUCTOR LED TRAINING)

3 HOURS

“Turning Remote Working to Connected Working”

INTRODUCTION

2020 ushered in a new way of working, one that we had previously talked about as a future of work practice that was to come in the distant future but before we knew it that future had already exerted itself upon us. Subsequent to the outbreak of Covid-19 and the enforcement of travel restrictions and national lockdowns, offices around the world closed and team members were scattered to solitary kitchen tables and bedroom desks. Recently working from home has become a way of life for most workers.

Remote Working is however not as simple as setting up on your laptop on your bedroom desk or at the kitchen table. Issues such as tools, rules, norms, and culture also come into play.
